DEDICATION

The Class of 1978 wishes to recognize you, Mrs. Jean Armstrong, for your many contributions to our class. You unselfishly have given your time, energy, and advice to help make our four years at North High among the most memorable of our lives. Inspired by your creative hand, we all have grown and matured. As our class advisor and our teacher, you always have had an open ear and a word of encouragement for everyone. We therefore dedicate this 1978 Northern Light to you, Mrs. Armstrong, for sharing so much of yourself with us.

Friends . . .

This word takes on a special meaning in the life of each of us. With some we exchange passing smiles or a quiet "hello" in the halls; with a few special people we develop close relationships.

Along with the friendships we form, we all strive for acceptance among all students. But sometimes peer pressure becomes a more powerful force than we would like, and most of us go along with the crowd to avoid staying home Saturday night. A few individuals, however, choose to shun the middle of the road and go off on their own paths.

In four years together, many changes occur within us and in our relationships. With each transition, we are molded into stronger and more mature individuals while the passing time sharpens and refines the profile of who we are . . .

Growth . . .

This action is constantly occurring and it is one of the most obvious changes that we experience. Glance into a freshman study hall and then look into the senior room — the difference in size is easy to see.

As we approach maturity, each of us must come to terms with our physical limitations. Many choose to strengthen their bodies through team sports or individual efforts. Others experiment with new clothing, hair styles, make-up, diets, and the inevitable braces. The only limit to finding the most complimentary combination is the span of our own imagination and the ability to transform reverie into reality . . .

Creativity . . .

This begins with imagination — we choose what we imagine, we imagine what we create, and we create what we choose. With freedom of thought we can create at will and each individual can attempt to make himself a more complete human being.

There are many outlets for creative expression open to those with the incentive to undertake them and the dedication to follow them through. For those who choose to touch upon the realms of the artist — the painter and the poet, the musician and the mime, the dancer or just the dreamer — independence is as essential as the development of skill and practice, practice, practice.

Although creativity can be shared with others, it is usually a very individual pursuit. In our attempts to reach the infinite limits of our creative spirit, we delve deeper and deeper into our inner soul, and we experience and learn . . .

Knowledge . . .

This is the real reason behind the facade of social activities for which high school exists. Our teachers guide us by placing the opportunity to learn at our fingertips. But the desire for knowledge must come from within.

In our high school passage, nothing is as important as the learning of self-discipline so that we can make our own decisions and think independently. As we experience many new friends, freedoms, feelings, and sometimes fears, each individual must accept the responsibility of sifting through these ideas to form a realistic view of the world around him . . .

Environment

What, exactly, is the high school environment? Is it the grounds and buildings? Is it the hallways and informal meeting places? Is it the classrooms and laboratories? Perhaps it is all of these, perhaps none. However we choose to think of it, our definition would be incomplete without including the human factor. We learn, after all, not from bricks and mortar, but from people.

This aspect is in itself many-faceted — the administration, the guidance staff, the teachers — and each facet reflects an equally important image upon the students. The school does provide a sheltered world in which one can learn; however, it is the knowledge and guidance of the school staff which are so important in each individual's development toward an inquisitive, contributing member of modern society.

Academics

Although our scholarly pursuits are often taken for granted, they comprise much of our daily schedules. Whether drawing a conclusion from a Geometry problem or drawing a portrait in art class, whether reading a Hemingway novel for English or reading a popular magazine in the Media Center for enjoyment, whether conversing with an interesting teacher or just a friendly classmate — we are learning!

Knowledge takes on many different forms to suit the needs of each individual, but no one should allow a learning opportunity to slip away only because it does not appear pertinent to his purpose in life. The maze of prejudice is often complex, always confining; nevertheless, just as its source can be found in ignorance, its solution can be found in understanding. Only through knowledge can we, as a whole, realize the solution of the problems facing the world around us, and, as individuals, come to learn the workings of the world within each of us.

Administration

Our principal, Mr. Louis D. Kelly, has a very busy schedule all year around at North Attleboro High School. Besides being responsible for handling the day-to-day problems of the school, he also must evaluate all of the instruction and make both major and minor decisions.

As any leader, however, Mr. Kelly has his own right-hand man, Mr. William S. Wassel. The Vice-Principal helps the principal take care of his heavy schedule and he also handles any disciplinary action that must be taken against students.

The final member of the high school's trio of administrators is our Occupational Education Director, Mr. Alfred J. Slowe. He assists with disciplinary action and manages his department of the school.

Special Needs Program

At North Attleboro High School we try to meet the needs of all our students, and this is why we have a Special Needs program. The students in this program need more time, patience, and individual attention, which is given to them by specialized teachers. These teachers not only educate students in their academic work but also teach useful skills such as cooking, sewing, ironing, and cleaning.

The students have held some social events with the help of their teachers. One of these was a Christmas dinner party where parents were invited. The end of the year was also a busy time, with a Mother's Day plant raffle and a paper drive to raise money for the Special Olympics.

Computer Program

The Computer is an often-unappreciated asset of North High. It prepares the school's daily attendance list, prints out report cards each quarter, tabulates results of town elections, and does the town's payroll.

Computer programming is a growing field in business and science. The courses offered at NAHS in this field help enlighten students to the growing possibilities of working with computers in the future.

Student Activities Program

In her two years as Student Activities Coordinator, Mrs. Sandra Dennis has helped to change the concept of our free-study period. Mrs. Dennis organizes a monthly program of presentations for students with free time during the day. Some of the programs that she has produced have been a Karate demonstration, skateboard artists, the Navy Band, plant clinics, a make-up workshop, a fashion show, drug education films and many, many others.

The Student Activities Program is an element of our environment that adds a variety to our schedules that is highly appreciated. The events are not only entertaining, but highly interesting and educational as well.

Influences

What forces have the most influence on us? Do we have a choice between good and bad, healthy and harmful? If so, can we make the right choice? The answers do not come easily, but the decisions possibly are even more difficult. The influences within the high school environment exert a powerful force upon the life of each of us. Often, some harmful forces become too powerful for a person to stand up against them.

Many influences, however, have a very positive effect on the student. Sports, clubs, publications, and the special, one-time-only activities all have an important part in building the character and shaping the personality of the individual. In day-to-day life these forces can become overshadowed, but they never should be overlooked. The time of independence is close indeed, and it will be these influences today which aid most in making responsible decisions tomorrow.

Influences

Do we ever think of what we gain from the vast amount of time spent within the confines of North Attleboro High School? Do we ever think of the formative influences within the walls that will shape or possibly break us?

These questions are not easily answered, but are ever-present and therefore an issue that we must address. Think of classroom lectures, social happenings, athletic events, and even our own personal accomplishments; then refocus your attention and try to answer those questions.

This one milestone, North Attleboro High School, may yet prove to be one of the most memorable guiding points in our lives.

Football

North opened the 1977 football season with a 35-0 thrashing of rival Bishop Feehan. Senior Tri-Captain Carl Hebert led the way scoring three touchdowns and passing for a fourth to junior wide receiver Don Johnson. Tri-Captain Brian Patch caught four passes on offense and had five tackles and three assists to pace the defense. Off to another fine start, the Red Rocketeers continued their winning ways in the second game of the season. Quarterback Hebert again piloted the N.A. offense with three touchdown passes, two to Johnson and one to junior wide receiver Mike Redding, as North flew past the Sharon Eagles 21-7.

Canton came to town the following week looking to upset the highly rated "Big Red." Redding put on a great individual performance, catching nine passes for 181 yards and two touchdowns. The Bulldogs, however, went home with a 35-26 victory over the Rocketeers. The hard times continued against a strong Stoughton squad when North was pinned for a second straight loss, 14-12.

North Attleboro did not stay down long. As the Red and White were filled up with their good old "pride, spirit, and desire," their defense held its ground and produced a 14-0 win over King Philip. The defensive unit, led by tackle John Rabuffo and linebackers Brian Patch and Steve Savard, allowed the Warriors a mere 56 total yards. North's offense got back into gear in their next game with junior halfback Gary Beyer scoring 22 points as the Big Red rolled over Foxboro 30-12.

North High's fine football continued into the contest with Oliver Ames. The Rocketeer offense, under the leadership of sophomore quarterback Jack Johnson, was overpowering and ran by the O.A. defense for a 34-7 triumph. Senior fullback Steve Shumila scored the first touchdown on a one-yard run. Brian Patch caught an option pass from Gary Beyer in the end zone to provide all the points North would need. Patch and Beyer joined Hebert on the injured list to dampen the victory.

The next game saw the Red Rocketeers travel to Mansfield, giving the Hornets all they could handle before losing, 28-19, in an emotion-filled game. This loss virtually killed all hope of a league title, and North Attleboro finished its Hockomock League schedule with a 20-14 loss to the Franklin Panthers.

The Rocketeers final game was the 57th annual Thanksgiving Day contest against their Attleboro Bombardier rivals. The Red and White lost a heart stopping 14-13 verdict to the Blue Bombers. Attleboro scored first, but North countered with a two-yard pass from Hebert to Savard, and took a 7-6 lead into the locker room at halftime. Attleboro regained the lead, 14-7, with a third quarter score. The Rocketeers came back with a 12 yard touchdown run by Beyer. The Rocketeers had an excellent chance to go ahead with a first-and-goal situation on the Attleboro one yard line, but after three unsuccessful running plays, a fourth down field goal was blocked to secure Attleboro's first Thanksgiving Day win in six years.

North finished the season with a .500 record and received many fine individual honors. On defense, John Rabuffo and Brian Patch were named to both the All-Hockomock and All-Sun-Chronicle teams. Bryan VanLeeuwen was given All-Hockomock honors, and defensive back Keith Waterman was selected for the Sun-Chronicle All-Star squad. On offense, Mike Redding was given All-Hockomock and All-Sun-Chronicle honors. Don Johnson and Carl Hebert were named to the All-Hockomock League team, and both Bryan Van Leeuwen and Gary Beyer were selected for the All-Sun-Chronicle team. In recognition of his outstanding season, Mike Redding also was selected to the Boston Globe All-Scholastic first team as wide receiver.

Field Hockey

The girls field hockey team, especially toward the end, had a good season. Not reaching their full potential until mid-season, their overall record was five wins, eight losses, and three ties, and they won all their scrimmages. Miss Connors, varsity coach, and Miss Athenas, junior varsity coach, agreed that next season should be better. Five varsity players will be graduating this year, but there are many promising underclassmen and J.V. players. Senior Sandy Dargis, captain of this year's team, received the honor of being chosen to the Hockomock League All-Star Team.

Cross Country

The 1977 Boys' Cross Country team, coached by Mr. Charles Ayotte, had a long, hard season. The squad was very young, and under the leadership of Captain Gene Bouthillette their final record was three wins and thirteen losses. Although unsatisfied, the team feels that next year should be better for both the varsity and the junior varsity squads. The league as a whole was stronger than in the past. Coach Ayotte was quite pleased with the team's performance. The junior varsity record of six wins and eight losses provides a hopeful outlook for the cross country team of 1978.

The Girls' Cross Country team, which was a young team, had an excellent season this fall. Susan Young, the coach who faithfully rode her bike behind the runners every day, was very satisfied with the season. The runners themselves thought the team should have done better — the potential was there but so were the injuries and bad weather. The team hopes for a fuller schedule next year: only four schools participated this season. The overall record was five wins and three losses with North Attleboro finishing second in the Hockmuck League.

Soccer

Soccer finally reached North Attleboro High this year, and the world's most popular sport has been catching on fast. At the start of the season, the athletes who chose to play on this first-ever team scrimmaged between themselves under the direction of their coach, James Barry. In five games against other area schools, the team achieved a record of two wins and three losses. Hopefully, soccer's popularity at the High School will continue to rise, and in the future it will become a regular in the fall lineup.

Football-Basketball Cheerleaders

This year the Football-Basketball cheerleaders enjoyed a successful season. Besides cheering for our football and basketball teams they received awards at four separate competitions: fifth place at David Prouty High School, fourth place at Franklin High School, third place at the New England Patriot Competition (out of thirty five squads) and a first place at the Oliver Ames Competition.

It was also a busy pre-season for the girls with a carwash in June and cheerleading on Cape Cod in mid-July, not to mention the summer practices.

The girls raised money by sponsoring the first dance of the school year. Head cheerleader this year was Tammy Crosta, and advisor Mrs. Jeannette Battista did a great job.

Boys' Basketball

This year the many loyal fans of North High's Basketball teams over the years knew in their hearts that this season would be the last for a truly great coach; nevertheless, there was a special sadness present when the faithful alumni and former players listened to the final announcement by Mr. Kenneth Pickering. The members of the yearbook staff were also moved by the occasion, and though saddened by your retirement, we would like to thank you, even more, congratulate you for the ten years of hard work and dedication you have given to the team and the school.

PERFECTION

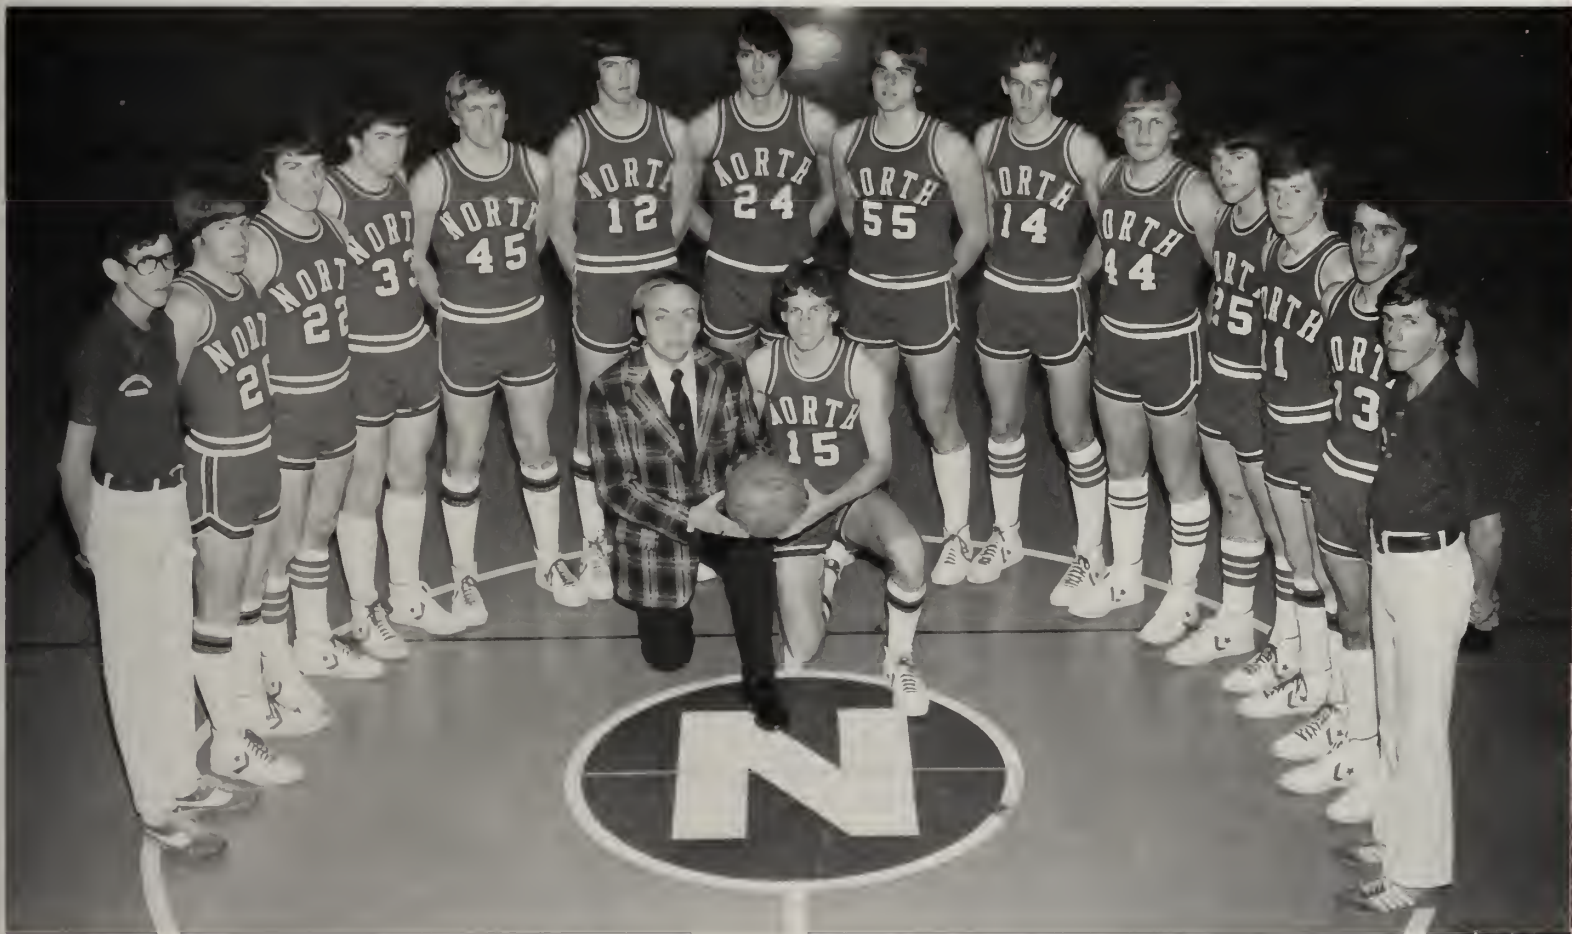

The 1978 Boys' Varsity Basketball team had another good season this year with a record of ten wins and eleven losses. The opening three games of the team's Hockomock League schedule all ended in close losses, but North managed to hold on against Bishop Feehan to gain a spectacular 57-54 overtime win. Two more strong games followed; however, the streaking Rocketeers went into another slump by dropping four heartbreaking decisions. As the end grew nearer though, the team's desire seemed to increase steadily, and North prevailed in four of its last five games to leave Mr. Pickering with pleasant memories of his final season.

Although the members of the Junior Varsity and Freshman teams will not have the privilege of serving under this fine leader, both groups had good seasons and should provide many memorable moments for the new crowds and coaches in the future.

Girls' Basketball

The 26 members of the Girls' Varsity Basketball Team had an excellent season this year with a record of eleven wins and six losses. The 1978 version of the squad was captained by veterans Sandy Dargis and Darlene Sanville, but the coaching positions were taken over by two newcomers, Head Richard Smith and Assistant Mary Savard. Beside the captains, seven players were returning from past teams and this provided a sense of unity for the group. At the end of the season, both Stephanie Rioux and Kay Gallotta were selected to represent the fine North squad on the All-Hockomock Team. Kay Gallotta was also selected Most Valuable Player and Darlene Sanville received the honor of Most Contributing Player.

The Junior Varsity Basketball Team had a slightly less successful year with a record of 7 wins and 10 losses under the same leadership as the varsity group. Although posting a losing mark for the season, the squad's 19 girls came out on top in every close game. This experience under pressure should prove valuable to the members when they reach the varsity team in the next few years.

Gymnastics

The Gymnastics team provided a fine example for the North squads in other sports this year as the group blended excellent individual talent and good team effort into a winning season. The girls were guided to a record of six wins and four losses by Coach Marcia Connors and Captain J. Elizabeth Hobson who received the GAA Most Contributing Trophy. At the end of the season, Lynn Gobin placed third in the Hockomock Individuals while Kathy Cavedon placed sixth in the uneven bars and was selected to be next year's captain. Both senior Norma Jourdenais and freshman Kathy Firth were chosen for the All-Hockomock team. Kathy also was given Boston Globe All-Scholastic Honors and qualified for the Individual State Championships in the floor exercises and balance beam as well as compiling the highest point total for a team member. Valerie Shumila, one of the twelve freshmen on the 22 member squad, received the GAA Most Improved Trophy and she, along with the other fine underclassmen, should help the group to many more winning seasons in the future.

Indoor Track

Again this winter the indoor track team ran headlong into the cold windy weather of New England. This year's co-ed squad, however, celebrated the first North Attleboro Winter Track victory in a few seasons under guidance of Coach Robert Aussant and senior co-captains Gene Bouthillette and Mike Brunell. The team logged many miles along the road-sides and wooded trails around town before the heavy snow began to fall, but they still managed to get in hard workouts between the snowball fights of late January and February. Hopefully, with the help of juniors Chris Loew, Dan McCrory and Sean Hanley and sophomore Jerry Espinosa, next year's trackmen (and women) will celebrate many more victories.

Ice Hockey

The Varsity Hockey Team had a solid season this year and finished its schedule with a record of five wins, fourteen losses, and one tie. This mark was deceiving, however, as the North Attleboro Icemen lost many close games despite the fine guidance of Coach Paul Davieau. At the end of the season, senior center Dave Balut was selected for All-Hockomock honors. Junior Greg Tinkham was chosen to take over next year for senior co-captains Dave Balut and John Stapleton.

The Junior Varsity team compiled a record of one win and eight losses — the win coming in a game forfeited by Millis. The game experience, however, should aid the group in next season's competition.

Hockey Cheerleaders

The Hockey Cheerleaders began their second year of existence long before the boys of the Hockey team laced up their skates. The squad started practice in the summer, and it won the honor of "most spirited" group while attending cheering camp at Dean Junior College. Mrs. Diane Balut helped the girls on routines throughout the year, and they placed third and sixth, respectively, in cheering competitions at Oliver Ames and David Prouty High Schools.

Baseball

Head Coach Jack Harris and Assistants Jeff Grant and Paul Sullivan all had a "satisfying season" this spring directing the Varsity Baseball team to an overall record of twelve wins and eleven losses. The schedule was filled with many exciting games including five one-run contests. In the last outing of the regular season at Attleboro, the Rocketeers dropped a 9-8 decisions to their chief rivals in eleven innings; however, the North High squad still qualified for the State Tournament.

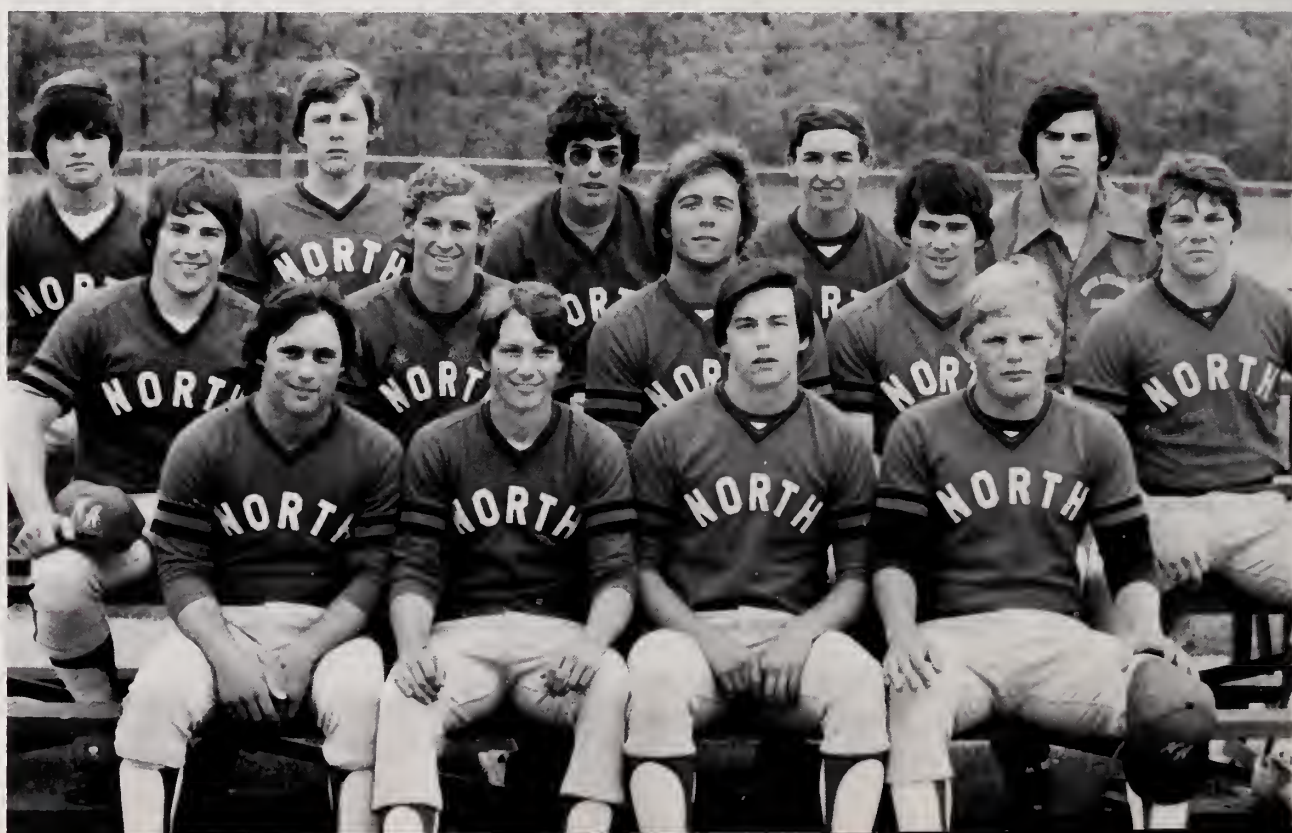

The group entered post-season play with high hopes and started out right by breaking open a first round game against Duxbury for a 16-5 victory. Their hopes were ended very suddenly, though, as North Attleboro lost a well-played, 3-0 game against Bridgewater-Raynham. Part of the team's success was due to the unexpected rise of Sophomore Tom Messier to a starting spot on the pitching staff, and he received All-Sun Chronicle honors along with Senior Captain Tim Rowles.

Both the J.V. team, coached by Jeff Grant, and the Freshman team, coached by Paul Sullivan, finished the season with .500 records. The all-sophomore J.V. squad posted a mark of eight wins and eight losses, and the Frosh group ended with six wins and as many losses.

Softball

The 1978 Varsity Softball team had an excellent year as they posted a regular season mark of fifteen wins and three losses while outscoring opponents 167-76. Under the guidance of Head Coach Barbara Murphy and Assistant Mary Savard, the girls finished in a three-way tie for first place, but under league rules they had to participate in a playoff. Unfortunately, they lost the honor to Canton, but the group still qualified for the South Sectional Tournament by virtue of its record.

Although the North team lost in the first round to Silver Lake, many individual honors were received by the players. Junior Rose Provost was selected for the All-Hockomock and All-Sun Chronicle teams. Senior Co-captain Darlene Sanville was chosen the GAA Most Contributing Player and to the All-Hockomock team. Also, Sophomores Debbie Dalton and Maura Tighe were both given All-Sun Chronicle honors.

This year's J.V. squad, although overshadowed by the Varsity team, also had a good season with a record of seven wins and six losses. With the older group only losing two seniors, Sanville and Co-captain Sandy Dargis, North Attleboro's softball teams should have many fine seasons in the future.

Boys' Tennis

The 1978 Boys' Tennis team, led by co-captains Dale Rose and Paul Medas, had an excellent season this spring. Their overall record in the Hockomock League was 11-5, and the use of indoor courts, when the NAHS courts were covered with snow and ice, proved to be a definite asset. Although the team lost four of their first five matches, they won all the rest with the exception of one, and they advanced to the State Tournament. In the States, the NA boys lost in the third round to a strong Austin Prep. team with a score of 4-1.

This was one of the best years for the NAHS boys' tennis team, and three of the team members, Greg Dean, Glenn Feder, and Steve Gavitt, were selected to the All-Hockomock team. With seven out of the nine team members being underclassmen this year, the team is looking forward to another successful season next spring.

Girls' Tennis

The members of the 1978 Girls' Tennis team started the season in good condition after hard workouts shoveling snow off the courts. By the end of its schedule, however, the group's record had also shaped up well. Although the North squad had beaten King Philip twice during the year, the two teams were tied for first place with a mark of sixteen wins and two losses. This performance, under the the guidance of Coach Laura Lee Bedard, earned the girls a place in the state play-offs. In this competition, the team beat Martha's Vineyard 3-2 but it lost by the deceiving score of 5-0 to Duxbury in the second round. Along with many team honors, Karen Haug, Kay Gallotta, and Lisa Riley were selected for the Hockomock League All-star team.

Golf

Again this spring the eight members of the golf team could be found out on the area's courses practicing their putting. The 1978 squad's work and Arthur Nunes' coaching proved very helpful toward compiling a good record of five wins, six losses and one tie.

During the season Paul Schmidt, although missing four matches due to illness, was a medalist in each match in which he played. Upon completion of the group's schedule, Schmidt was named to the All-Hockomock team. He also qualified for the State Tournament along with Steve Rioux and Greg Schmidt.

Boys' Track

This year spring came rather late, but the Boys' Track team was well prepared despite the weather. With the guidance of Coaches Robert Aussant and Charles Ayotte, the group finished with a record of five wins and three losses — the best overall in the last five years. Two of the three losses, however, were by only a total of five points.

Many of the points the team did score to win were compiled by Gene Bouthillette who competed in the 110 high hurdles, 330 intermediate hurdles, triple jump and 4 x 440 relay. Gene, a senior, completed his career by setting a school record for points scored in a single season with 176, as well as a new career scoring mark. To top it all off, he was the only member to qualify for the State meet, and he received All-Hockomock honors along with Bob Mochrie, Chris Loew, and Jerry and Mike Espinosa.

Girls' Track

In the past few years spring track has gained much in popularity among girls at North High; however, the 1978 track team was somewhat smaller and did not have enough people to get the job done. The tough season was made even more difficult by bad weather and lack of time, but the group still managed to finish its schedule with a mark of three wins and six losses by capturing the last two meets of the regular season.

In post-season play, Head Coach Susan Young and Assistant Steve Robertson guided the squad to a fifth-place finish in the Hockomock League meet. Steady performer, senior Donna Vanbever, was selected to the All-Star Track team in the discus and senior Norma Jourdenais placed fifth in the long jump at the South Shore meet. The group will lose twelve seniors; nevertheless, the fine selection of freshmen who won the Freshman League meet this spring should provide much talent for the next few years.

Student Advisory Committee

The Student Advisory Committee is an elected group of five students the purpose of which is to function as the students' representative to the School Committee, insuring that student rights and viewpoints are given full hearing. In addition, its members regularly meet at the regional level with SAC members from other towns in order to discuss matters of concern to all students and to channel opinions and ideas to the State Department of Education.

This year's SAC was instrumental in affecting school policy in two areas. Much of its efforts concerned the perennial problem of the high school smoking area. Based on the SAC report following a one-month trial period, the School Committee decided to continue smoking privileges for the remainder of the school year. In addition, the SAC, meeting with school administrators in the summer of 1977, succeeded in achieving a compromise regarding "open campus" whereby the rules were eased for seniors but tightened for underclassmen.

As the idea of the SAC is now well established, its role should continue to expand. More changes can be expected in "open campus", for instance. So long as students are represented by the SAC, they will know that their voice will be heard in future school policy decisions.

College Bowl

As in years past, the '77-'78 College Bowl team was selected by the school faculty. The eight students chosen to represent the senior and junior classes first participated in a 'pre-season' match-up. Following this year's triumph by the seniors, a panel of judges selected a core team of five members to compete against neighboring schools. Seniors Jon Chernov, Kay Gallotta, and Karen Haug and juniors Dan Chernov and Dave Christianson all gave valiant efforts in the home and away contests with their Attleboro and Foxboro counterparts, but did not actually win any of the games. A very close contest in Attleboro, however, gave our team visions of victory until they were shattered by a final surge by the Attleboro team. Rounding out the original four-member teams were senior Mark Kapolchok and juniors Mike Redding and Stephanie Rioux. Mr. Vincent Baldasaro served as Master of Ceremonies for all home games and it was through his and Mrs. Sandra Dennis' efforts that all questions and answers were compiled. Mr. William Wassel coordinated the entire program.

Business Club

The Business Club, under the leadership of Mr. William Flannery, centered most of this year's active schedule on the local Chamber of Commerce. The group's work included aiding the Chamber with its monthly newsletter and also computerizing the Chamber's mailing list. The club, now in its second year, hopes to develop into a service club in the future and provide business services for both school and community.

Plant Club

Though it was only the first year for the Plant Club, its members were fairly busy. Under the direction of Mrs. Emily Powers the club held a plant sale and attended the flower show in Boston. At meetings the members learned the proper care and treatment of house plants and vegetables. Although this year's members were mostly biology students, everyone is welcome.

Although the aides have often been taken for granted, they perform many necessary tasks throughout the school. The various aides include those who help in the office, computer room, Media Center, and audi-visual area. Others assist the special needs students as swimming teachers and classroom helpers. All of these students should be commended for their work and hopefully, they will be remembered and appreciated in the future.

Junior Classical League

The Junior Classical League's purpose is to encourage participation and interest in Latin and Greek outside of the classroom. Among this year's varied activities were: the very popular annual Slave Auction in October; a Saturnalia celebration in December; a presentation of the film Julius Caesar for Massachusetts JCL's in March; and a spring field trip to view the Roman and Greek exhibitions in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

A national Latin test was administered to all interested students, the costs being borne by the club. Awarded a gold medal for excellence on this test was Sue Gariepy, a second-year student and Vice-Consul of the JCL. Twenty-six other students received maxima cum laude, magna cum laude, and cum laude certificates.

A JCL newspaper, Acta Diurna II, was founded this year, and expansion of this effort is planned for next year. A poster contest to promote Latin studies was won by Paula Falocco and Doug Greene. Advisor Phyllis Thibault said in an interview that she hoped that students would find Latin to be as "alive" as they wanted to make it. This year, JCL members certainly made Latin a very "alive" language in our school.

On October 22, the Senior Sharks battled the Junior Jets in the Fourth annual Powder Puff Football Game. All the girls played a hard, and sometimes rough, game. The seniors scored first on Sandy Dargis' touchdown run. A reception by Cindy Quackenbush from Quarterback Kay Gallotta gave the Seniors the two point conversion and an 8-0 lead. The Juniors struck back with a Carol Monast-Stephanie Rioux combination to make it 8-6. The Jets failed to make the conversion, and the game ended with the Seniors victorious. Some brave Junior and Senior boys donned cheerleaders' outfits and showed their spirit. Dispite a few injuries and many bruises, it was a fun evening.

Student Council

The Student Council is composed of eighteen members; six officers, twelve class representatives, and faculty advisor Miss Doris Daley. The association is formed each year with the intent of serving the student body by acting as a link between the students and the high school administration. In the past two years the Council has been getting more students involved in their activities by selecting non-voting honorary members who suggest different ideas to benefit the school.

Early in the fall of 1977 the Student Council hosted a convention at which several neighboring schools were present. Kevin Poirier, representative in the Massachusetts House of Representatives, was a guest speaker. All present felt that the convention was successful in revealing how the different schools conduct student-run activities.

The Council sponsored two very successful Red Cross Blood Drives, one in November of 1977 and the other in March of 1978. The fourth annual Father-Daughter Dance, held in early December, was also produced by the Council members.

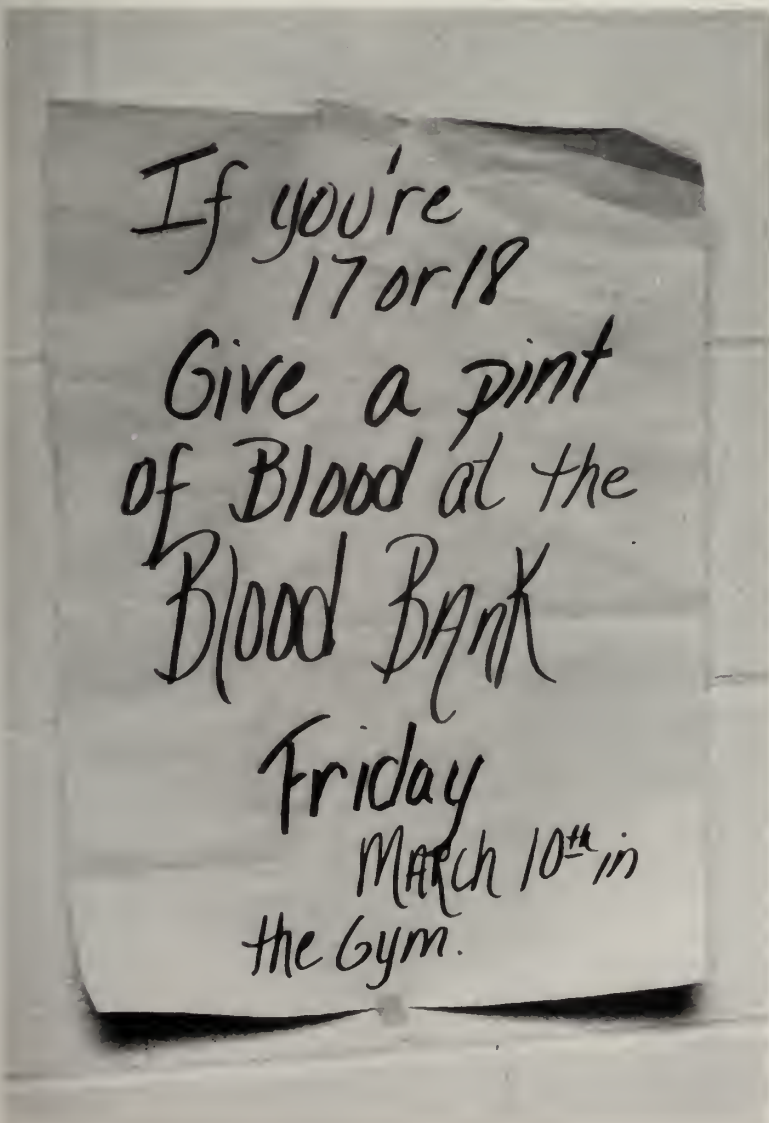

Fund raising activities included cake and candy sales, car washes, and movie presentations for smaller children. With the profits from these events the Council provided a newspaper rack for the Media Center, two wardrobe cabinets for the drama department, and a student activity board which was placed in the main lobby. All in all, the Student Council had a very prosperous and productive year.

Drama Club

The Drama Club had a characteristically active year in 1977-78. Rehearsals began in September for the November performances of The Sweet Tooth Surprise. This annual production is created by Drama Club members exclusively for North Attleboro elementary school children. Surprise — the dream of four children who search for the Candy Vampire — was well received by the young audience.

On May 25 a banquet was held to induct new members into the International Thespian Society, a theatrical honor society. Inducted this year were: C. Leach, I. Bremner, K. Nevers, A. Werner, B. Betts, C. Dulude, T. Boyle, K. Gilbert, W. Vician, S. James, and P. Falocco. Many other veteran thespians received honorary stars, and two, Pat Hanley and Sue Winsor, received honor bars for their dedication to the theater. Pat also was voted Best Thespian by her fellow actors.

An Easter raffle and numerous bake sales were held during the year to finance the Club's participation in a Thespian Conference in Brookline, Mass., on June 2nd and 3rd. The overnight trip made by 25 students and advisor Judith Cobb was deemed an informative and interesting weekend by all.

The sixth annual Festival of One-Act Plays was presented on February 4, 1978. The three competing plays included: I Married Irene Because She Has Eyes Like Abraham Lincoln, directed by Wendy Vician; The Day After Forever, directed by Bill Chapman; and Not Enough Rope, directed by Rose Lamoureux. Faculty advisors Sandra Dennis, Robert Hanold, and Steve Dennis, respectively, offered advice and encouragement to the students.

After a long deliberation following the performances, the judges finally came to a decision. Distinguished Performance medals were given to Lonnie Lewis for his performance as Johnny in Day; Sue Winsor, for her portrayal of the Party-Party Woman in Irene; and Pat Hanley, for her rendition of Mrs. Pierce in Rope. The Best Actor and Actress trophies were awarded to Fred Wambolt and Erin McManus for their performances as Claude and Edith in Rope. Rose Lamoureux also received a trophy for her direction of the Best Play, Not Enough Rope, which went to regional competition at Old Rochester High School.

Oliver, the story of a young orphan's search for love, was presented on April 14 and 15 by the Drama Club and Senior Class. The popular musical, based on Charles Dickens' classic tale, was produced and directed by Drama Club advisor Judith Cobb.

The cast and crew worked well together through weeks of hectic rehearsals, and the show was pulled together once again in the final week. Some of the musical highlights of the production included the boys' opening number, "Food Glorious Food;" Oliver's touching solo, "Where Is Love;" "Be Back Soon;" a cheery tune performed by Fagin and his boys; and Nancy's rueful ballad, "As Long As He Needs Me." All involved in the production received praise for their dedication and determination to produce such a fine show.

Southeast District All-State

This year Janet Desroche, Jon Chernov and David Christianson all qualified for the Southeast District Band. The Band is composed of the best high school and junior high school musicians in Southeastern Massachusetts. Members were selected from a very large group of contestants. In addition, David was recognized as a top Massachusetts musician by being selected as a member of the All-State Band.

A Cappella Choir Double Quartet

Under the direction of Mr. Christianson, the A Cappella Choir rehearsed two days a week in preparation for its schedule of appearances. This year's group sang Christmas carols for the Kalmia Club and also for the residents of Madonna Manor. In the spring the girls performed for the Attleboro Chamber of Commerce and, in the highlight of the year, they sang to a very receptive audience at the Annual Spring Concert.

The Double Quartet consists of ten singing voices which blend together in three part harmony. Accompanied by David Christianson, they performed in the same program as the Choir this year in addition to a special appearance at Richards Memorial Library.

Concert Band

Stage Band

The Concert Band under the direction of Thomas Baccala worked hard during the summer and early fall practices mastering routines to use during the football halftimes. Their hard work paid off as the routines fell together smoothly on the field. Along with football season activities, the band performed in several parades and at the spring concert held on May 6th.

The stage band under the direction of Thomas Baccala got a late start this year; however, it performed in the variety show and the spring concert. The group usually performs a medley ranging from classical to Pop rock and is very informal in its organization. Next year, Mr. Baccala would like to see the group travel to other schools to perform.

Majorettes

During the fall the majorettes entertained the North fans at football games with their traditional halftime performances. Although this has always been the main purpose of the group, the girls also participated in parades, rallies, competitions, the Spring Concert and the Junior Variety Show.

To raise money for activities, the majorettes sold coffee, doughnuts and soda to the Adult Education Classes. The list of the year's social events runs from Saturday morning breakfasts to holiday parties. The many friendships formed within this closely-knit group made it a fun-filled year for all involved.

Color Guard Drill Team

The Drill Team, advised by Maureen Cochrane, raised its membership to nineteen girls this year. The group practiced throughout the hot summer months, and the hard work showed up well on the football fields and parade routes in the fall.

The girls also participated in the Spring Concert and held breakfasts on Saturday mornings. This year's team bought new uniforms and shakers which have given the group a more professional style, and, hopefully will help increase the Drill Team's popularity in the years to come.

Again this year the Color Guard showed off the Red and White of North High at the football games and led the marching band through parades in the area. The girls worked very hard during the summer practicing precision drills with flags and guns in preparation for their annual fall activities. The group's efforts continued after the football season with a performance at the Spring Concert.

Model U.N.

On Dec. 8th the students of the International Relations class packed their suitcases and headed out with advisors Vincent Baldasaro and Rolf Tallberg to the world of foreign affairs. The Harvard Model United Nations ran smoothly both at the Sheraton Hotel and at Harvard University. All of the delegates worked hard at committee meetings and caucuses. The group's adventures around the city left lasting impressions, and at the conclusion, the participants, although tired from lack of sleep, agreed it was an exciting event.

Model Senate

The Hockomock Model Senate again this year took over the fine facilities of the NAHS Media Center for two full days, May 4th and 5th, of intense debate. During the first day the North delegates settled into their roles as senators and within the competitive, but friendly, atmosphere of the committee meetings they managed to have most of their bills approved. Encouraged by the optimism of Advisor Vincent Baldasaro, the students lived up to expectations as they managed to get three bills among their original eleven on the following day's agenda. The North Attleboro proposed Gay Rights bill was the first to be debated, but did not pass. The Drinking Age bill had a similar fate later in the day, but North's Prison Reform Package was successful. No matter how each student senator's bill fared, each and every one had an enjoyable, educational experience.

Honor Society

The Honor Society, as in past years, concentrated its efforts on fund raising events and once again did very well. First, the members sold advertising for football and basketball programs. They also sold carnations for home football games. The profits from these selling efforts were put to good use; the members took a ski weekend trip to Jackson, N.H. (a trip none will forget for a number of reasons) and later a day trip to Gloucester's Hammond Castle. The money raised also helped to take care of the costs of the induction banquet which took place in April.

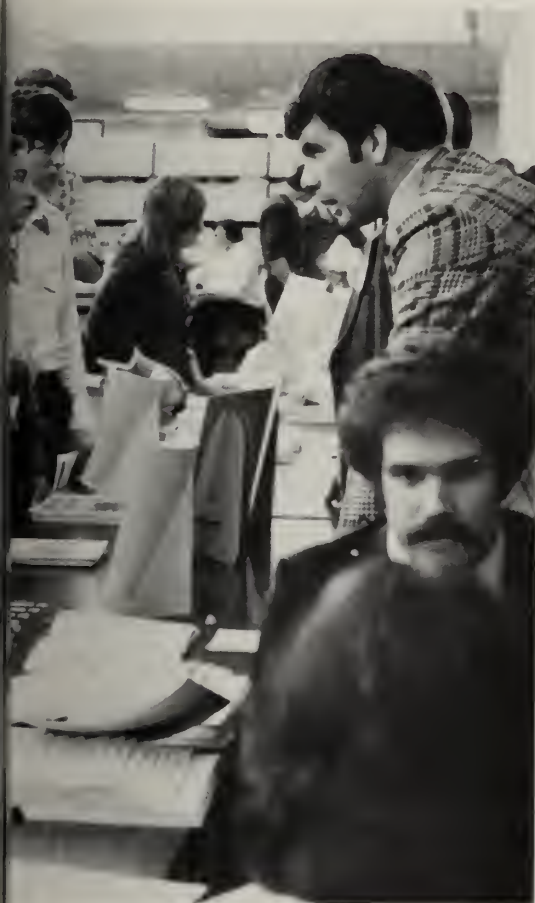

In addition to fund raising events, the Honor Society continued its practice of service to school and community. In the fall it sponsored its annual Career Day, an event that attracted a record number of exhibitors and interested students. In the spring the Society again produced the all-school Awards Assembly. All in all, it was a very successful year for the Honor Society.

DECA

The Distributive Education Club of America, otherwise known as DECA is an organization whose program of leadership, personal development and career encouragement is designed specifically for students enrolled in Distributive Education. DECA teaches marketing, merchandising, and management skills. DECA activities provide its members with an opportunity to serve as business leaders and offers unique opportunities to receive local, state or national recognition in business education.

Girls' Athletic Association

The GAA got a new start this year with advisor Madeline Athenis. The girls began their activities with a cake sale, then sponsored a bowl-a-thon. The highpoint of the year's activities was a weekend trip to Martha's Vineyard in the late spring, an experience enjoyed by all who participated. While this club has had its ups and downs in the past, its present members are looking forward to an expansion of activities in the next school year.

The conglomeration of many talents known as the Yearbook Staff began its work early in the fall. Whether as an artist, writer, photographer, salesman or just someone who likes to order others around — each member has a place and purpose in the production of the book. The co-editors of the 1978 Northern Light, Suzanne Winsor and Nora Broughton, organized the efforts of the section editors and aided them whenever they could with their own special talents. The section heads, along with various editorial assistants, completed the different departments.

The Yearbook was once again a somewhat frustrating activity as the final product was often hard to envision, but one glance at the final book makes it all worthwhile. The main purpose of the staff, however, is to serve the school with its efforts. Hopefully, each and every person who had purchased this year's volume will also feel this is a very worthwhile production.

Free Press

The Free Press is an organization designed to inform the students and faculty of events concerning the school through the production of a monthly newspaper. This year marks an achievement for the members of The Free Press staff. The paper had ceased publication after one issue due to excessive costs and insufficient student interest. Later in the year, interest revived, resulting in the production of several more issues. This proved to be difficult as the staff was starting from scratch. Mr. Rolf Tallberg, the advisor, served as a catalyst for the staff efforts. Hopefully, with more participation the newspaper will become a success once again.

Galadriel

The dedicated members of the literary magazine staff, although working in an unstructured atmosphere, produced another excellent volume of the annual Galadriel. Originally named for the elf queen from the brilliantly creative mind of Tolkien, the magazine has come to provide an excellent outlet for the creative minds of our own school.

Before blending together the students' artwork and writing, the staff attained valuable experience by attending a writing workshop at Emerson College. Advisor Rus Benson aided the members in producing their own successful poetry writing workshop.

This year's edition was dedicated to Judith Cobb for her contribution to the creative spirit of the high school, and hopefully the staff's efforts will add still further to the development of this spirit.

Variety Show

Once again the annual Variety Show, held on May 20th and sponsored by the Junior class, proved to be a smash hit. The show is a variety of acts encompassing music, dance and humor. Performances were delivered to a full house. Our Masters of Ceremonies for the evening were Fred Wambolt and Kim Erickson. Mr. and Mrs. Dennis were our directors, and without their help the show never could have gone on. The profits from this events yielded over $1,000 for the Junior Class. The Variety Show is not only a lot of hard work, but is a good time for all involved.

Growth

How do we measure growth? By tests and analysis? With a ruler and scale? Whatever we choose as our standard, it will only measure the dimensions of one's mind or body. As each student passes through his years in high school, he can easily recognize this change in knowledge and appearance; however, it is the growth within which is so difficult to define and measure.

Often do we wonder what maturity entails; often do we speculate on the extent of our own, or that of others. Freshman, sophomore, junior year — each individual attempts to lessen his feeling of immaturity by reflecting on the younger students' actions. "We didn't act like that when we were freshmen, did we?" Freshman, sophomore, junior year — each individual constantly tries to become more mature, but the harder we try the more we realize that maturity comes naturally. We just might have acted like that when we were freshmen; nevertheless, we have since matured, and with this we have grown.

As we enter North High we begin by merely observing the things around us and then trying to adjust. The second year begins with a feeling of new-found confidence and maturity — "I'm on my way!" Things begin to happen; friendships develop, classes spark interest and questioning, activities and athletics push us forward in our search; everything joins together to quicken our maturing process.

As our senior year closes we realize where we've come from and see the beginnings to our future plans. Our North High career entails growing and expanding our horizons in preparation for the new challenges we will be facing.

Junior Prom

The Junior Prom was held at the Blue Hills Country Club in Canton, Mass. on April 20. The very elegant Starlight Room provided the atmosphere where couples danced for most of the evening. The popular UVL Band performed the theme song, "Nights are Forever," along with many other well-known selections. A roast beef dinner was served and it was enjoyed by all. The junior boys chose Maureen Stack as Queen for the night. Her court included: Kathy Cavedon, Steph Rioux, Kim Maher, Andrea Berg, Lisa Metrano, and Loriann Olaski. The class of '79 proclaimed their prom to be one of the highlights of the year.

Freshman-Sophomore Social

The third annual Freshman-Sophomore Social was held on April 8 in the gym. The theme song, "I Need You," was one of the tunes performed by the band Soiree. Through the efforts of the Sophomore class officers and the decorating committee, the gym was turned into a starlit wonderland. Music, good food, and dancing were all that were necessary to provide an enjoyable evening. This event proved to be one of the more exciting social occasions for the freshmen and sophomores.

Achievement

What does one look upon as achievement? What can one achieve? It all rests upon the individual's values and talents — his idea of what is most needed by society and his estimation of what he can contribute to its realization. Each one of us has his own special talents and the ability to apply them. Now, as many friends say farewell and leave behind the world of high school, each one must decide for himself what his contribution will be.

What will a person achieve in his lifetime? All phases of achievement are interrelated, but this final aspect somehow seems apart from the others. It rests upon a different quality; no matter what we choose to call it — drive, desire, determination — it has the same meaning. What one will achieve is directly related to his will to achieve.

The Senior Prom was held on March 3 in Tiverton, R.I. The Class of 1978 enjoyed a lovely evening of dining and dancing at the Coachman Restaurant. Typical of the winter of '78, a snow storm threatened to cancel the festivities, but the prom was held as scheduled. The theme was "Just the Way You Are" performed by the UVL Band. Claire Butterworth was crowned queen and nine senior girls were chosen for the court.

Awards Assembly

It is the tradition of the National Honor Society to arrange the Annual Awards Assembly and this year Kay Gallotta, Honor Society president, conducted the ceremonies. Students were presented with awards and honors in various categories. Joe Broughton received the Rensselaer Medal for Math-Science while the Brown Book Award for excellence in English expression was given to Sally Youd. Nora Broughton was awarded the Marie Scanlin Award for English. Awards were given for excellence in occupational education subjects and recognition was given for student services. The Yearbook was dedicated to Mrs. Jeanne Armstrong who served as advisor for the senior class throughout its four years. Mr. Clinton Johnson received a varsity jacket in honor of his retirement from North High and in recognition of his loyal and devoted support of the athletic teams.

Class Day

On June 1, the senior class attended Formal Class Day with parents and friends looking on. Essays were read by Houda Al-Amir, Joanne Croke, and Bambi Maitland. Jim Beaupre sang the class ode, and a musical duet was performed by Jon Chernov and Janet Desroche. Ginny Bedard received the Crockett Award as outstanding senior of the year. Following the ceremonies, students and parents were invited to the cafeteria for refreshments.

Senior Reception

On June 7th the class of '78 enjoyed a lovely evening at the King Philip Ballroom. After dining in the Massasoit Room, they marched into the Grand Ballroom to form the traditional receiving line. Following the "congratulations" by parents, faculty, friends and each other, dancing began and continued until the end of the evening.

Graduation

Commencement exercises for the Class of 1978 were held on June 5th, a warm summer evening. Dr. David Ross, a marine biologist, addressed the class on the energy crisis. Superintendent William Kelly presented prizes for excellence in academic areas and the Principal's Award to those students who had been on the honor roll every semester. Principal Louis Kelley presented the Balfour Athletic Cups and announced the scholarship awards. The highlight of the evening was the presentation of diplomas by Alfred Censoio, Chairman of the School Committee. The ceremonies were brought to a conclusion by the singing of the class ode "A New Life Begins" by composer Jim Beaupre. The seniors then marched off the field, as they had marched on, to the strains of Pomp and Circumstance.

Right: Faculty members Mr. Duhamel, Mr. Frutchey and Miss Bedard — "Could it be Curly, Moe and Larry?" Far right: Ken Padula receives his diploma from School Committee Chairman Alfred Censoio.

Far left: Kerry Dolan, Rosemary Doxsee Wain, and John Ducharme — "You can relax now, John, you finally made it!"
Left: Tim Nolan — "You mean all those people came to see me graduate?"
Bottom: Jon Chernov and Janet Desroche play a duet during graduation exercises.

Advertising

Why advertising? Each year, it seems, several persons are moved to put this question to yearbook staff members and their advisors. After all, their argument goes, why not eliminate advertising from the book; no one ever looks at that section (so we are told) and the yearbook would have space to print about one hundred more pictures. So, why advertising?

The obvious answer is, of course, money. As with everything else, the cost of paper, ink, photographs, postage, and, especially, the high-quality craftsmanship that go into each issue of the Northern Light have risen about ten percent each year for the past five years. Simply put, our advertising program helps to absorb these increases; without it, the book soon would be priced out of the reach of most of its readers.

There is more, however. Few people realize that the selling price of the book always is much less than its actual cost. The 1978 Northern Light, for instance, actually costs about $15.65 per copy; it sells for $10.00. Advertising makes up the difference. Were the advertising revenue not available, the book would have to be reduced some thirty-six percent in scope — that is, reduced by some eighty-four pages, or 335 pictures. Clearly, our readers would never stand for that, and they would be right.

This is why we have advertising. This also is why we owe a large debt of gratitude to those firms and individuals who advertise with us, and to the senior DECA members who sell the bulk of the advertising. Without them, we all would face changes in our Northern Light that would please no one.

As we stand at the doorway of life,
We'll want everything right.

From childhood protections we'll begin
Our new way of life.

North High you'll always be with us;
Memories of good times and friends.
North High we'll never forget you.
One new life grows and one ends.

What road will we take?
Where are we going to?

Whatever that road will have,
We'll know that North High helped us through.

North High you'll always be with us;
Memories of good times and friends.
North High we'll never forget you.
One new life grows and one ends.

— James Beaupre
